Clos Montmartre

The very last vineyard in Paris. Produces 2000 bottles of pure parisian wine. It's worth to see vineyard just in the middle of haussmannian style buildings.

Parc des Buttes Chaumont

Very nice and calm place perfect for relax after busy day in Paris. There is a tower in the middle where you can climb up and see Sacre Coeur and beautiful perspective of roofs of Paris.

Sacre Coeur & Montmartre

Its a must! Pefect view of Paris from famous Sacre Couer stairs. Montmartre is always really crowded but it's worth to see this area full of parisian painters. Quite expensive place though.

Galleries Lafayette

It's a big shopping mall but not everyone knows there are stairs and you can climb up to the roof of this building with breathtaking view.

Trocadero & Passy

Trocadero is the very best view on Eiffel Tower. Passy is nice in terms of architecture. If you are the fan of old french movie you can easily find the building where they were making „Le Professionel” with J.P. Belmondo.

Arts et Metiers

Most beautiful metro station in the city. Just go through by metro line 11

Rue de Lappe

Great place for drinks in the evening.

Canal St. Martin

Very nice place for a walk. Go from Republique up to Stalingrad. Having a beer on the bank is a must. If you're fan of design visit ArtAzArt design bookstore.

Place des Vosges

Very often you can meet singing people as the acoustic in the 18th century gates is amazing.

Village St.Paul

Great place for art lovers. It's like another city in the middle of Paris.

Marais

Great district and an opportunity to get lots of funny gifts from shops like Pylones, DOM, La maison de ville, Fleux. Its good chance to see Pompidou Centre as well.

Pont des Arts

Walk through the beautiful wooden bridge. Take a look at the locks (you'll know what I'm taking about when you get there).

Rue de chat qui peche

The narrowest street in Paris. You will never find this in any guidebook.

Pere Lachaise

Famous cementary. Its a must for all Jim Morrison fans.

Bercy Village and Bibliotheque Nationale

Old style houses transformed into small shops. Nice architecture. At Bibliotheque have a look at the stairs.
